IT WAS A GREAT BIG DAY

All People Joined in the Ceremonies.

AN UNUSUALLY LARGE PARADE

Thousands Thronged the Streets and Joined in the Procession—The Ceremonies at the Cemetery—The City Was Handsomely Decorated, and the Occasion Was Well Observed.

Memorial day, the soldiers' day, was observed with the usual ceremonies in East Liverpool, the people of the city and many visitors joining the veterans in their exercises.

Before the day came flags began to fly, and patriotic people were hard at work decorating their homes and places of business in the heart of the city. The monument was draped with the national colors and covered with wreaths, and flags fluttered everywhere. Many private residences fairly glowed with the emblem of liberty, and nothing was left undone to array the city in its best bib and tucker. In spite of the heat the people came out early, causing the streets to present a busy appearance, and giving a gala day aspect to everything. Business men, or such of them as opened their stores, did a rushing trade in the early hours of the day, but it almost subsided at noon, when the majority of the houses were closed, and merchants went home or waited until the parade was formed. A short time after the afternoon began men in uniform began to appear, and soon the pretty strains of a stirring march were heard as Haines band marched to Grand Army headquarters on Fourth street.

There the veterans had gathered early, and were standing about in little knots discussing the unveiling of the confederate monument in Chicago, or telling tales of the days when they mourned not only on Decoration but on every day for the brave boys who suffered in the sweltering heat of the field hospitals or had left the ranks to join a greater army above. There was many a story with its humorous side in spite of the occasion, and the laugh went around as in the days when they faced danger with a smile. The band played while the soldiers formed, and the parade started for the opera house with the post following the band, and the Sons of Veterans bringing up the rear. J. C. Allison was in command of the veterans, W. H. Surles gave orders for the firing squad, and Captain Vodrey marshalled the youngsters. They made a pretty appearance as they marched up Washington street, and took their places in the opera house, where the oration was delivered by Judge Martin, of Lisbon. The gentleman made one of the best addresses ever heard in the city. He recalled the stirring days when the soldiers marched forth in defense of the flag, and remembered the heroism of the woman who stayed at home while touching upon pathetic and valorous phases of soldier life. The heat was so great that the opera house was unusually warm, and Judge Martin sensibly noted that long drawn out addresses must be sacrificed to the abnormal condition. But his effort lost nothing by its brevity, and the many telling points he made were received as well by the audience as the grizzled veterans who occupied conspicuous positions. Miss Sebring sang a solo well. At the close of the exercises the soldiers marched into Sixth street, and then to Market where the procession was formed in the following order:

Commander Allison and Adjutant General Lloyd.
Chief Gill and officers.
Haines' band.
G. A. R.
Sons of Veterans.
Judge Martin and committee.
The Patrol.
Senior Mechanics.
Junior Mechanics.
Knights Golden Eagle.
Senior Rechabites.
Junior Rechabites.
Drum Corps.
Patriotic Sons of America.
The Public Schools.
Mayor Gilbert and Chief Adam.
Fire Department.

Hundreds of people thronged the streets and viewed the parade as it went by. Many disregarded the sun in order to obtain a good view of the marching column as it passed, and the general verdict was that in point of numbers it was not what was expected, but in appearance it was one of the prettiest ever seen in the city. The line of march was covered as published in the News Review, and the program was carried out at the cemetery. The impressive service of the Grand Army was read, and the graves of all the soldiers were decorated. There was a profusion of flowers, and the school children made up an ideal Memorial Day scene as they marched along the paths under the watchful care of the veterans and deposited their wreaths and blossoms upon the graves. A large number of people were present, and witnessed the interesting ceremony, always interesting although they have seen it many times. The gun squad were in their places as usual, and the cannon was neatly decorated with flowers. The ceremony of the honorary salute was passed through, and the procession returned to the city.

Taken all in all the observance of the day was a credit to the city and its people. The patriotism of the old soldiers and the feeling of the public exemplified by the suspension of work and business go to show that there are a few places in the country where Memorial Day is more generally recognized than in East Liverpool. When there were many veterans here they educated the people to the idea, and now that they are passing to the great beyond their lessons are not forgotten.

In Wellsville.

Memorial day was observed in Wellsville by the most pretentious exercises that have been seen for several years. The procession formed at 8:30 o'clock in the morning in the following order:

Drum corps.
Public schools.
Parochial schools.
Sons of Veterans.
Grand Army of the Republic.
Junior Order United American Mechanics.
Young Men's Catholic association.
Temperance association.
Young ladies.
People in carriages.

Judge Martin was the orator of the day, and delivered a powerful address. In the evening an entertainment, attended by a large crowd, was given at city hall, the program being complete in every particular. The town was splendidly decorated, several buildings presenting a handsome appearance.

THE ELKS

Made Merry at the Thompson House Last Night.

The banquet of the Elks last night was one of the most enjoyable events in the history of the city, and was attended by people from Pittsburgh, Rochester, Steubenville, Philadelphia and other places. The initiations were passed through early in the evening, and the party walked to the Thompson House where the banquet was spread. The feast was all that could be asked, and as course came after course the story and jest went round the festal board. Edward Wells was the toastmaster, and with rare tact distributed the toasts among the many Elks present. The speeches were impromptu, but that does not imply that they lacked wit and oratory for they were models of banquet addresses. The merry making continued until a late hour when the happy crowd went home proud in the knowledge that they had entertained themselves and their friends in a royal manner.

The speakers were A. H. Clark, W. V. Blake, George Buxton, of this city. Rudolph Glasser, Mr. McClelland, Pittsburgh; Clayton A. Smith, Youngstown; Wayne Kratzer, Philadelphia; Judge Martin, Lisbon. Joe Morgan, of Lisbon, was presented with a fine watch charm in appreciation of his services. Mr. Kratzer making the speech.

IN A BASKET.

It was 5 o'clock yesterday morning when Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Sergeant living at 558 Calcutta road, heard the crying of a baby, and going to the door found an infant in a basket. The little one was carefully protected from the cold and was dressed in a neatly made garment while a bottle of milk placed where it could easily be secured insured it food until older hands could take it in charge. Some clothing, a silver dollar and a five cent piece were also found in the basket, the strange find being surrounded by an unmistakable air of respectability. The little stranger is a pretty girl, good natured and affable. There is no clue to the parentage of the child, and Mr. and Mrs. Sergeant are at a loss to know what to do with the little stranger, but will care for it for the present. There is no mark by which the little one can be identified.

Hertel a Winner.

Will Hertel, the well known Turner carried off the honors at Steubenville yesterday. He won the standing high jump going 5 feet 5 inches in the air and carried off a handsome prize. He jumped 16 feet 5 inches in the standing broad jump and took second place by a few inches.

COLLARED THE CLIMAX

Liverpool Boys Played In Form Yesterday.

WE DIDN'T DO A THING BUT WIN

It Was the Only Snap the Association Players Have Had This Year, and They Worked It For All It Was Worth—Two Games Easily Won.

There was a small audience present in the grand stand when game was called by Umpire Smith, at 10:20, with the home lads at the bat. Albright to first on fumble by short. Twaddle sent nice one to third, which the latter fumbled badly, giving the batter first and Albright second on what should have been a double play. Safe sacrifice by McNutt advanced Albright to third, forcing Twaddle out at second. J. McShane hit to third, and the throw home to cut off Albright went over the catcher's head, letting Albright and McNutt home. Errors were now numerous by the Allegheny boys, winding up the first inning of the home players with five runs on one base hit and a sacrifice.

Yagle, of the Climax, went to base on balls and stole second. Davidson struck Gant out. A nice hit over second by Hare brought Yagle home. Wilson sent little fly to first and retired. Muff of thrown ball let Hare go to third and a passed ball sent him home. Next batter out at first. Two runs.

Davidson safe at first on muff of a pop fly to short, the latter quitting the game and the substitute taking his place. Albright struck out. Twaddle sent one with fire on it past second, batter going all the way around, sending Davidson in ahead of him. McNutt sent one to short, and was given a life by first dropping the throw. McNutt caught at second, but decided safe by the umpire. J. McShane made first in safety. Kennedy out on fly to short. McNutt stole third, McShane going down to second. P. McShane sent out long and high fly to center, that felder taking his time to get under it nicely, but misjudged it and let it go over him. McNutt and J. McShane coming home and P. McShane reaching third. A hot one to short was fumbled. P. McShane coming home. Cartwright hit over short and Tolbert came home. Davidson's out ended the agony. Six runs.

The Climax boys were out in short order. Badger on fly to first. Garlick out on strikes. Demoss, short to first. No runs.

Albright out, short to first. Twaddle to third—nice stop and bad throw, runner stealing second. McNutt hit and went to first. J. McShane struck out. Kennedy out on high foul to catcher.

Yagle sent one right into left felder's hands; it was too easy and was ingloriously muffed. Yagle stole second, and on a bad throw to catch him went all the way round, doing splendid sprinting. Gant got a life by mistake of short. P. McShane then retired from short, Bobby Logan taking his place. Runner stole second. Next man up made a nice hit and Gant came home. Then came a hit past short and another run was in, with man out at second. Allegheny caught off base. Davidson struck next out. Three runs.

Logan's long fly muffed by center field. Talbert got a life by neat stop of third and awful throw. Talbert stole second, Logan going to third. Cartwright struck out. Davidson out on fly to right. Albright hit a rustler past third, Logan and Talbert coming in, while the left felder made a horrible throw, clean past first base, Albright making the entire circuit. Twaddle was given a life by muff of right felder. McNutt hit and went to base. J. McShane to first on balls. Kennedy to base on balls, forcing a run in. Logan struck out. Four runs.

Climax took a medal composed of goose eggs. The feature of this inning was a lightning throw to first by P. McShane, he having relieved Davidson, the latter complaining of the excessive heat. The play was a gem. Umpire Smith retired on account of the heat, Mr. Kelly taking his place. East Liverpool lads were treated to eggs.

Good hitting, assisted by errors gave the Climax two runs.

Albright struck out. The center felder made a magnificent catch of Twaddle's beautiful hit. McNutt out from third to first. And right here is where the crowd in the grand stand had fun. McNutt had been sent to base by allowing himself to be hit by slow curved balls, playing the same unworthy dodge as he did in the Bethany game, and he had been soundly hooted at for so doing. This time, when he came to bat, the Climax pitcher had evidently been posted, and he sent in ride shots, straight and sure, and McNutt was thunder struck, astounded, awfully wrought up and good for nothing. He died an easy victim. Selah.

The Climax succeeded in adding another run to their score. The feature of this inning was a beautiful stop by Twaddle, who had changed to short, and he followed the stop with a superb throw to first. One run.

J. McShane had a life at first by wild throw of third, and went to second on passed ball. Kennedy struck out. Logan followed suit. Talbert sent an easy one to pitcher, and a fumble and wild throw let McShane come home and Tolbert to second. Cartwright out, third to first. One run.

Climax were unable to score and game was called. Score, 15 to 8 in favor of our home players.

Runs—Y. M. C. A., 15; Climax, 13.
Home runs—Twaddle, 1.
Three-base hit—P. McShane.

The afternoon game was called at 3:45, with a strong representation of ladies and gentlemen in the grand stand. Mr. Kelley filled the berth of umpire to the entire satisfaction of both teams. Orr pitched for the home nine and did splendid work. He watches the bases closely and has good command of the ball. Albright, as usual, did well behind the bat. Twaddle was strictly in the game with the willow, while his fielding was nice to witness. All of the home nine did nicely. McNutt did not play in the afternoon. The short stop of the Climax was conspicuous by his errors, and the crowd made merry at his expense.

Some one made a mistake in securing the visitors to play against such a strong team as our home nine on such an occasion as yesterday, as the "comedy of errors" was simply laughable, many persons leaving in disgust in the morning before the game was half played out. In justice to the home management, it should be stated that they were under the impression that the Climax was a nine hard to beat.

Chief Gill and his entire force took in the afternoon game. They looked well in their nobby new uniforms.

The front office of the News Review returns thanks to the management of the Young Men's Christian association club for courtesies extended.

THE PRINTERS PLAYED.

What It Was the Stars Alone Can Tell. Other Games.

The teams of the News Review and Crisis met on the grounds in West Virginia yesterday morning and played. It was called base ball, but so far as can be learned nobody is certain just what would be the proper term to apply. Neither can anybody be found to make affidavit that it in the least resembled base ball. Length of game—four innings. Cause of brevity—too much torrid zone. Score—Crisis, 17; News Review, 1. Excuses—of the News Review, best players failed to materialize; team badly crippled; pitcher from Wellsville and cross eyed. Crisis took advantage of News Review by signing Thin Space—of the National league, in disguise.

The Sebring pottery club and the team from Cartwright's plant battled on West End grounds Wednesday afternoon with the result that the score stood 14-11 in favor of Cartwrights. The Sebring boys claim their opponents ran in four players from the Shamrocks, and that they were in hard luck otherwise by their pitcher, Joblin, giving out early in the game. Cartwright's pitcher was Hannel Wolf. The two teams will

LOOKED FOR TROUBLE

And Got More Than Enough of the Fight.

A COUPLE OF BAD COLORED MEN

Beaten and Bruised by Fists, Bottles and Blackjacks in a Downtown Saloon—Ed Mosby Was Seriously Hurt and Out of His Mind—Police News.

There was serious trouble at the foot of Broadway, yesterday and as a result Hiram Scott is behind the bars nursing a wounded head and Ed Mosby is in a critical condition.

The trouble started over some trivial matter in the National House about 4 o'clock. Scott and Mosby, colored men, got into a dispute with a white man, whose name was not learned. Scott retreated to the outside and picking up a good sized stone from the railroad tracks, rushed into the crowd inside the place. In an instant all was confusion and curses were mingled with groans and sound of blows and crashing of glassware. A crowd standing on the river bank immediately made a run for the place, and while several went inside the others crowded about and held the doors to keep the fighters imprisoned until the police arrived. The patrol was called but the wire had been broken early in the day and there was no response. Then it was seen to be useless to wait on the force the watchers moved back and Scott appeared. He was a sight to behold blood streaming from several wounds and running off his clothing to the pavement in a manner that sickened the bystanders. Scott made for the river and securing a boat went quickly to the other side to escape arrest. There friends helped to wash off his wounds and rinse his bloody clothing. The other man, Mosby, was not able to do the sprinting his partner had done. Scott had been hit by several fists and a beer bottle, but Mosby was struck in the eye with a black jack and completely paralyzed. He was taken to his home in West End, and last night became delirious from his injuries.

His eye had swelled until his entire face was affected and lost almost all semblance of human features. So violent was he that it required four men to hold him in bed, and his shrieks of pain could be heard for quite a distance. He was resting easier today, but is still in a serious condition. Charles A. Hutcheson, proprietor of the place, swore out warrants for the arrest of both men last night for fighting, but when Chief Gill went after Mosby today he found him in a condition unfit to allow his imprisonment. Scott returned about 9 o'clock, and was in the same saloon when Officer Earle arrested him. He would not go along until the officer had released his hold on his arm. Some of the witnesses say that the white man was the only one to strike the couple while others say the crowd generally took a hand in the affray. The man with whom Scott and Mosby originally had the trouble has disappeared, and the police think he is either in West Virginia or Pennsylvania.

George Tial, of Huntingdon, W. Va., was found drunk on the streets yesterday and arrested by Officers Earl and Jennings. He wanted the authorities to send to Huntingdon for his character claiming that every time he had been arrested there he had been a peaceful citizen. He cried like a child until locked up and then tried to make good a promise to tear down the place. He will probably have a hearing this afternoon.

Bill Farmer withdrew the charges of chicken stealing against John Burns and Charles Brown. The friends of Brown secured his release yesterday for $11.60. Burns is still in jail.

Chief Gill has been looking for a black silk cape stolen from Mrs. L. E. Harvey on Tuesday last. A house was searched but the cape was not found.

There Will Be Arrests.

The trouble at Rock Springs yesterday will result in the arrest of the fighters if they are caught on West Virginia soil. The management telegraphed to New Cumberland and had Sheriff Porter on the grounds in one and a half hours after the trouble. A crusade will be waged against disturbers at Rock Springs this season.

Corcoran Was Here.

J. W. Corcoran, the man who does the rating for Ohio, was here on Wednesday, and decided that he would make out a new schedule for the city. It is not known when the schedule will be prepared, and insurance men say that the only change will be credit for improvements.

Squire James McCormick was in Smith's Ferry on business today.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., FRIDAY, MAY 31

For President, WILLIAM MCKINLEY, OF Ohio.

JOHN SANT and a host of other men can charge Auditor Harvey with misdeemeanor for a year before the people of East Liverpool will think for a moment that he is guilty of any wrong doing. George B. Harvey was raised in this place, and as boy and man has shown himself upright and honest. There may be mistakes in his office work; that is possible, but there is no violation of law if the auditor knows of it.

THE CANDIDATE.

General Bushnell was not the candidate of the NEWS REVIEW. At no time did we believe he would be nominated. This paper favored Judge Nash and looked upon him as the best man to face the nonsensical six year superstition. But the party's representatives have decided otherwise. They choose General Bushnell, and by him will stand every loyal Republican in Ohio. His past life has given him the experience necessary to make him a leader, and his business training will not permit him to be anything but a good governor. He is a man toward whom the finger of scorn can not be pointed, and his qualifications as a good citizen are all that the party could ask. General Bushnell has done yeoman service for his party, and no matter how often he has been weighed in the balance he has never been found wanting. His strong personality and splendid ability should give him a splendid majority next fall and insure the election of the ticket. The NEWS REVIEW is for McKinley for president, Foraker for the senate, and Bushnell for governor, with every other man on the state and county tickets for the offices they seek.

THE PLATFORM.

The Republicans knew what they were doing when they put these planks in the state platform:

"A protective tariff which, restoring American wages and American products, shall prove of the highest interest to American laborers and American development, while providing adequate revenue for the uses of the government. Reciprocity, which, while seeking and gaining the world's markets for our surplus products, shall not lower or destroy American wages nor surrender our own markets to foreign commodities which can be produced at home."

"Honest money, consisting of gold, silver and paper, every dollar as good as any other dollar, and backed by the national faith and honor. We favor bimetalism, and demand the use of both gold and silver as standard money, either in accordance with a ratio to be fixed by an international agreement, if that can be obtained, or under such restrictions and such provisions, to be determined by legislation, as will secure the maintenance of the parity of values of the two metals, so that the purchasing and debt-paying power of the dollar, whether of silver, gold or paper, shall be at all times equal."

An Electro-Magnetic Cannon.

This recent invention is dependent for its action upon the principle of the force of attraction and repulsion as caused by magnetism. A brass tube, 5 feet long, 2 1/2 inches in diameter and 1 inch bore, was wrapped with insulated wire along its entire length, the current flowing through different sections of the windings in such a manner as to cause the bullets to become temporary magnets, which were attracted by the magnetic lines of force ahead of them and repelled by those behind them, thus giving the projectiles an increasing impetus as they pass along the gun. The bullets are thrown forward in much the same manner as the armature of an electric motor is turned on its axis. The cannon is light, inexpensive, and its capacity for throwing projectiles depends on the rapidity of loading the same. It is estimated that a five foot gun, requiring 500 volts and 100 amperes, will throw a one pound ball 1,000 feet, with a striking velocity of 100 pounds.—Boston Journal of Commerce.

Got What She Asked For.

She was buying a trunk. "I want one," she said, "that cannot be opened by the regulation trunk key that everybody uses."

"All right," said the dealer. "I will see that you have one."

The next day the trunk was sent home, and a few hours later the purchaser appeared at the trunk store.

"I told you," she said, "that I wanted a trunk that could not be opened by the regulation trunk key."

"That's what I sent you."

"Why, any trunk key in the house will unlock that trunk."

"You said the regulation trunk key. Have you tried a hairpin?"

Then she went home and wept when she found that she couldn't unlock that trunk with a hairpin.—Detroit Free Press.

William Morris.

William Morris, the English poet, rejoices in the possession of a prodigious memory. Given a fair start on any sentence in Dickens' works, he will complete that sentence with very little deviation from textual accuracy. Were every copy of "Pickwick Papers" destroyed today William Morris could write the book almost word for word as it now stands.

Greenland was so called because in summer its hills were covered with a beautiful green moss.

Paganini looked like a caricature of a man, so thin was he, with every feature exaggerated.

Haydn had a long nose, an almost invariable peculiarity of genius.

Buckram was at first any sort of cloth stiffened with gum.

YORK GOT A PLACE.

He Was In Fast Company at Youngstown.

Special to NEWS REVIEW.

YOUNGSTOWN, May 31—At the bicycle races here yesterday 3,000 people witnessed the sport, which was the best ever witnessed in the city, the Mahoning cyclists leaving nothing undone to make it successful. York, of East Liverpool, got third place in the one mile novice, and he was riding in fast company. Hale got second in the half-mile open, and at the close of the one mile open, L. Sloan of Beaver Falls stepped on the track, and collided with Lewis, who also fell. Both men were senseless when taken on the stretchers to the hospital, and both were suffering from concussion of the brain. Their recovery is a doubtful question.

The friends of York in Liverpool took upon his work as successful as he ever rode the wheel but once, and he has had no training whatever. While the Ceramic City Cycle club would have been delighted to get a better place, they are shaking hands with York for what he did.

Some Events.

The picnic of the Phoenix club at Camp Boquet was attended by almost 60 society young people, who spent a delightful day. The heat did not prevent them from dancing to the music of the mandolin club.

The young people who went to Fredericktown had a splendid day, although they felt the effects of a high temperature as much as any.

The picnic of the Waverly club at Rock Spring was attended by over a thousand persons, who went to dance and see the balloon ascension. The balloon did not go high in the air, but the professor jumped with his parachute and landed safely in a tree. He was taken down without injury.

Sword Presentation.

The clever workmen in the Union Pottery hold George Smith, boss kilnman, in a warm niche in their manly bosoms, and they gave vent to this on the evening of the 29th in the presentation of a sword to their friend and co-worker. The event was a very happy one. The presentation speech and response thereto were genuine gems of eloquence, calculated to stir the cockles of ones heart to the innermost depths. Space forbids, or these gems would be given our readers in full. The sword and mountings are masterpieces of the skilled artisan, and must be seen to be fully appreciated. Mr. Smith should be a proud man.

Amusements.

The educated dogs and ponies will give exhibitions under their mammoth tent in this city at West End ball park three nights beginning Monday June 3. Too much can hardly be said in praise of these highly trained animals, the exhibition that they give is so unlike other entertainments given by educated dogs or ponies. There is not one dull moment on the program; nothing that is monotonous. It is comedy from start to finish; it is high-class amusement and strictly moral. Professor Blake has spent years of time and labor in designing the most attractive way of exhibiting their intelligence. No one in the city should miss this grand opportunity. Prices are within reach of all. Children, 10 cents; adults, 20 cents.

Wedding Bells.

Mr. Robert Valentine was married to Miss Emma Francis on May 28. Mr. John Rigby was married to Miss Edna E. Ward on the evening of May 29. Both ceremonies were performed by Elder C. W. Huffer at the parsonage.

Famous Bread.

You have no doubt heard of Jack Rowe's famous home made bread? How could you fail to hear, when it is in everybody's mouth? And how delicious it is. Just the thing to be spread with country butter, and then you have a feast fit for the gods. Order from Jack Rowe and you will be happy.

The Horse Came Back.

The horse belonging to Motorman Tom Smith, which was stolen Tuesday night from Allison's field above East End was found near the race track about 8 o'clock Wednesday evening. Somebody had stolen it, but presumably just for a ride.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Mr. C. A. Goddard, well and favorably known in East Liverpool as a skilled photographer, has severed his connection with R. L. Edmondson.

The members of the city council will meet with the attorneys for property owners on the Fourth street extension at 7:30 o'clock this evening.

Frank Beatty received a telegram yesterday conveying the sad news that his half brother was dead in Steubenville. The funeral took place in the latter city yesterday afternoon.

William Barnes, a prominent member of the church of Christ, died at his home on Second street early yesterday morning. The funeral will take place from the church tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Liverpool people returning from the Hookstown oil fields state the excitement is still at fever heat in that section. The Rogers well is expected to come in tomorrow, being down over 1,000 feet already.

The heat yesterday was especially hard on horses, and almost every stable in the city has sick animals today. Even the fiery steeds of the city seemed to feel the sun while parading yesterday afternoon.

One of the picnic parties yesterday turned their horses out to graze while they enjoyed the day, and when they sought them at night the animals could not be found. Another pair were hired to bring the party home.

About 20 from this city attended the dance given in the Junior Mechanic hall, Chester, Wednesday night, and West Virginia people made up the balance of the crowd. The dance was a pleasant affair, and Memorial day dawned before the dizzy maze was ended.

The many friends of Winnie Mercer were happy yesterday when they learned that he dared pitch two games in one day and was in condition to win them both. Carey played with Baltimore in two winning games, and continued in the good work he has been doing recently.

Mrs. Samuel McCullough, an estimable lady residing near Hookstown, died Tuesday night of cancer after an illness of six months. The lady was 67 years old, and had a large circle of acquaintances in this city and vicinity. Funeral services were held this morning, and the interment was made in Mill Creek cemetery.

The Typographical union have determined to protect the newspaper offices that have signed the scale, and at the meeting on Wednesday night decided to let the public know it by distributing circulars containing a complete list. The Tribune in this place and the Union in Wellsville have been rattled because they refused to sign the union rate of wages.

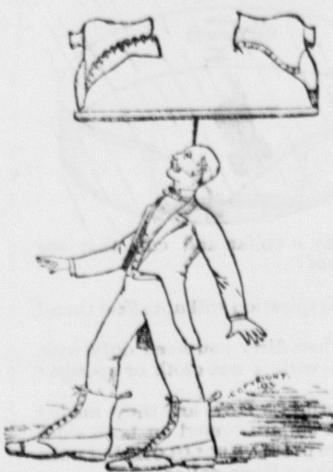

When Frank George retired last night his patriotism would not permit him to remove the decoration from his place of business, but some one was kind enough to do it for him before the morning dawned. He would not have objected to this had not the thief torn the awning while taking the bunting. The theft was committed during the night, and the thief did not enrich himself from the haul.

When the handsome black team used by John Rinehart to draw the hearse returned yesterday from the funeral of the late John Temple, one of the horses showed signs of weakening, and in a few minutes had laid down and died. Heat was the cause. Another horse from the same stable was overcome by heat on the drive to Camp Boquet, and was left there, another horse being secured to bring the parties home.

A story was afloat today that the city would be called upon to pay for the natty new uniforms in which the police are now arrayed, because of the specifications laid down by the committee. E. J. Owen was questioned about the matter today, and laughingly replied that he knew nothing about it. He had not been asked by any member to present their bill, and could not for the life of him see where the city was liable.

A number of small boys were engaged in the interesting work of removing books and other articles from the desks placed in the new school building Wednesday without permission. Several of them were caught in the act but escaped and running out in a rapid and by no means graceful manner fell down the steps in the alley. No arrests were made, although there will be if the thefts are repeated.

A merry party of ladies and gentlemen had an oh-be-joyful time in skiffs last evening, starting up the river from the Washington street wharf about 8 o'clock and returning at a late hour. The oarsmen are said to have been very skillful. An immense garter snake had in some manner been overlooked in one of the skiffs, and the frightened ladies were with difficulty restrained from leaping into the river. Sweet singers were in the party and their songs were cheered to the echo as the skiffs passed the Rock Spring picnic grounds.

play soon for $25 a side.
The West End grounds will be occupied tomorrow afternoon by the striking glass workers base ball club, of Pittsburg, and the glass workers' nine of this city. The proceeds will go to the strikers, and a large number of tickets have already been sold.

The Eclipse Boys Won.
The Eclipse Baseball club, of this city, went to Lisbon yesterday and defeated the Crescents, of that place.
The features of the game were the batting of Myler and Rowe, of the Eclipse, and the fielding of Rowe and W. Carey, Eclipse, and Jess Carey, of the Crescents. Manager T. Ferguson, of the Eclipse, would like to hear from all first-class amateur clubs of this section. Eclipse got 10 two-base hits, the Crescents two. Three-base hits, one each.

Two Opinions.

Councilman Stewart explained to a NEWS REVIEW reporter his reason for voting against Sant's bill at the last meeting of council. He remarked "to vote to pay that bill, council would have to vote that Harvey is a thief.
That I will not do for anybody."

Councilman George said he voted for the payment of the bill because he thought he deserved his money. It was not a question of whether anybody had or had not intended paying the city its portion of the Dow tax, but of the actual carrying out of the agreement made with Sant. He could not see how council should vote down the motion to pay when they had such a full and satisfactory explanation from both sides. As to the charges made against Harvey, he was inclined to think that a general Lexow investigation was badly needed.

Squires' Court.

Jane Daly has entered suit in Squire Rose's court against William Pilgrim for $8, the amount she claims for board, and says that the defendant had promised to pay it for another party who boarded at her place. The case is set for trial on Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

James Green has entered suit in Squire Rose's court against J. T. Tice, John Tice and Louis Miller, the latter two being sureties for Tice. He seeks to recover suit for $12.45 on a promisory note, and the case is set for a hearing at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning.

that no better people were ever carried, not a hitch being made anywhere. He carries a full crew, including the orchestra, and while he does not really need them he has them on the boat for the pleasure of the passengers. The Water Maiden takes out

THAT'S QUEER!

You say a collar and cuff that are waterproof?
Yes.
And perspiration will not affect them?
Yes.
And when dirty you need only wipe them off with a wet cloth or sponge?
Yes.
Wonderful! How are they made?
A linen collar covered on both sides with waterproof "CELLULOID." Looks exactly like a linen collar.
Is it the only waterproof collar and cuff made?
No, but it is the only one made with the linen interlining and consequently the only one that can give entire satisfaction, because it is the best.
How can I know that I get the right kind?
Because every piece is stamped as follows:

Inquire for that and refuse anything else, or you will be disappointed.
Suppose my dealer does not have them?
He probably has, but if not, send direct to us, enclosing amount. Collars 25c., Cuffs 50c. State size, and whether collar wanted is stand-up or turned-down.

A THEORY.

Why do the violins shudder so
When across them is drawn the bow,
Bob for anguish and wild despair?
Human souls are imprisoned there.

Souls are shut in the violins.
They are the souls of Philistines,
But the Philistines, row on row,
Senseless sit and they do not know.

But they brandish their evening dresses,
Stare at each other's evening dress,
Scrutinize form or brilliant hue,
Say, "Is it rouge or is it true?"

"Some one was flat a semitone,
And how stout the soprano's grown!
Isn't the bass a dear? And, oh,
Do look at Mrs. So-and-so!"

Still the musicians play serene,
As though Philistines had not been,
But their souls in the violins
Mourn on bitterly for their sins.

Call them wildly and call in pain,
Call them with longing deep and vain,
And with infinite tenderness,
Since they can give them no redress.

Since not one of them is aware
Here is he and his soul is there,
In the music's divinest chord,
Making melody to the Lord.

So how often in life and art
Soul and body must dwell apart—
Great is the master's soul, no doubt—Twenty Philistines go without.

Are we body or are we soul?
Little matter upon the whole.
Great is the master's soul, no doubt—
Human soul in the violin,
Save me at last, a Philistine!

—May Kendall.

SPOONING PARTIES.

How These Commendable Aids to Matrimony Should Be Conducted.

"Spooning" parties are popular in some quarters. They take their name from a good old English word which was intended to ridicule the alleged fantastic actions of a young man or a young woman who is in love. For some reason, which no one ever could explain, everybody pokes fun at the lover. In fact, that unhappy character is never heroic in real life, no matter what great gobs of heroism are piled about him on the stage, and in all the romantic story books. The girl in love and the boy in love are said to be "spooning."

When a "spooning" party is given, the committee in charge of the event receives a spoon from each person who attends, or else presents each guest with a spoon. These spoons are fancifully dressed in male and female attire, and are mated either by the similarity of costume or by a distinguishing ribbon.
The girls and boys whose spoons are mated are expected to take care of each other during the continuance of the social gathering.

Of course the distribution of the spoons is made with the greatest possible carefulness, the aim being to so place them as to properly fit the case of the young people to whom they are presented. The parties are usually given by the young people of some neighborhood where the personal preference of each spoony is well known, and they are the source of no end of fun. It is possible also that they serve as aids to matrimony as well, and are therefore commendable, since an avowal is made more easy to a diffident swim after he feels that his passion is not a secret, but that his weakness for a "spoony" maiden is known to his friends and enemies on the committee which dispenses the spoons. It may be mentioned that after the spoons have been distributed among the guests, each couple retires for consultation regarding the reasons which caused the award of mated spoons in their case. This consultation is known by the name of "spoon-ing."—St. Louis Republic.
